Team complete!

Well, dear readers, it seems we made it. Barred unforeseen circumstances - and these always happen, sigh... - God, you bastard, I wanna kill you is now a full-fledged Death Toll project.

After ttcchen joined us to translate this violent roller-coaster, two new people were instrumental in making this release happen.

The first was Mii, our new cleaner-redrawer. A total beginner in scanlation, he nevertheless cleans well, has a knack for typesetting and redraws like a boss. At first he wanted to take God, you bastard... not only because he likes it, but because it is the simplest of our series.

Or so we thought. Tarry a little at the first double page and behold Mii's talents in full force. "Novice" doesn't apply anymore, and Mii is now a full-fledged member of the redrawing team, along with Sarrymast, Kabuto and Pok. Congrats on a great debut with us, Mii, and we look forward to working with you!

The second was MegCha, our quiet new typesetter whom we had practically to drag into registering in the forums. She is fast, works hard and we hope she will be with us for a long time. Thanks for joining, MegCha!

With chapter 03 in the works now, we hope you enjoy this series as much as the team enjoys scanlating it!

Current positions - cleaner and redrawer crisis!
(http://goo.gl/ZcVYfG)

- Funouhan: we need a super redrawer. You will have to take either our full redrawing test or a series tailored one and pass with honours. Series description: https://goo.gl/OVqEZc

- Demon assassins: right now it is stalled because of me, the over-ambitious translator, but when chapter 02 comes out we will need a top-notch redrawer for future chapters. The requirements are the same as for Funouhan. Series description: https://goo.gl/BhvDjd

- Sprite: we need a new cleaner. Applicants must master Levelling, Straightening and Cropping, Unwarping, Dodging and Burning, have some sense of when and how to use Sharpening filters (for when Unwarping blurs the page, for example) and know how to use a Bubble-cleaning action (if they don't have it, we can supply one). And of course know to choose the tools needed according to the situation.

Needless to say, all these series are in hiatus until the positions are filled.
